THE PARABLES OF JESUS AND THEIR RELEVANCE TO DIVINE HEALING

By Trevor Leach, spiral bound, 316p $49.95

This book analyses seventy parables of Jesus and is an anthology of information written about these Parables. The book of 314 pages is organised in three sections:-

Section A looks at what are meant by Parables and why Jesus taught by Parables. William Barclay writes "The stories of Jesus are the best known stories in the world. They were produced on the spur of the moment, often instantaneously in the cut and thrust of debate, improvisations in the dust and heat of conflict. It is the duty of a prophet to trouble his fellow countrymen, disturb them and make them think, making them see what they really are. When we put the parables all together we shall gain an unmatched insight into the mind of the Master teacher."

Section B gives a commentary on each of the seventy parables dividing them into six categories

Section C is very enlightening as the content of each parables is given from many different Bible translations and the message of each parable, its context, historical background, biblical cross references and an analysis of each parable is given.

ROMANS CHAPTER EIGHT

By Trevor Leach, spiral bound, 30p $12.95

This book, of Romans Chapter Eight, takes us on a spiritual journey in five sections. Here are some of the highlights from the book:

In this wonderful chapter Paul shows us how to be in union with Christ and Thomas A Kempis writes in the "Imitation of Christ" "Blessed the ears that catch the pulses of the divine whisper" "Be wholly absorbed in Him and filled with His love". Mary Baker Eddy says "leave the minor tones of so called material life and abide in Christ-likeness". The King James Bible translation says "bring into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ. George Fox said "We turn to the Spirit of God in ourselves". Douay translates "We are longing to take the shape of Christ"

As Paul wrote in Galatians "Let the Spirit of God dwell in you" and in Romans 8 "The Christ be in you, his indwelling spirit in your lives." In his letter to the Ephesians Paul writes "God has called us to share the life of Christ" "That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith" :Pope John Paul II said "Walk alongside Christ as a friend" In Corinthians Paul puts it this way "Let the light of the glorious gospel (The good news of Christ) Man as the image of God. Dawn upon you and bring you illumination (II Cor 4:4 King James, Goodspeed, American Standard Version, New English Bible, Knox).

It is important that we take the opportunity each day to identify ourselves correctly as sons and daughters of God, heirs of Christ and that we "Don't let the world squeeze us into its own mould" (J.B. Philips). We should live on the spiritual plane and "be conformed to the image of His son, as brothers and sisters in Christ" As Paul tells us in Ephesians "Be imitators of God" and in II Corinthians "Sharing in God's work", Let heaven fill your thoughts (Living Bible). So thanks be to God who leads you in Christ's triumphant way and makes your knowledge of him spread throughout the world like a lovely perfume II Cor 2:14 (JB Philips)

OLD TESTAMENT PARABLES

By Trevor Leach, spiral bound, 52p $15.95

This book reminds us of twenty-five parables in the Old Testament such as: The high cedar (Ezek 17:22-24) and The Ploughman Isa 28:23-29

It gives us an analysis of the parables and suggests the message of each, using various different Bible translations. It is a basic study book that we can use to do our own study and analysis of these inspiring Old Testament Parables.

The parables warn of the danger of drunkenness, confusion, pride, over-confidence, un-forgiveness, revenge, covetousness, slothfulness, laziness, confrontation, disobedience, tyranny, oppression, unfruitfulness, treason, arrogance, apathy, negligence, selfishness, ruthlessness.

The Parables share many inspiring spiritual ideas such as "Listen to the wisdom of God and flourish." "Be unified by the Spirit of God, take spiritual refreshment" "Let the Christ reign in you". "Be a good shepherd and be fruitful".

SPIRITUAL HEALING IN THE UK DURING THE PAST 350 YEARS

By Trevor Leach, spiral bound, 32p $12.95

This book reviews the upsurge in Christian healing in the UK from 1647 to 1997 and shares information on eleven healers. Some extracts are given below.

From the time of George Fox, a seeker for the revelation of Truth, who advocated that we should stop being obsessed with sin and start focussing on the light of Christ and unconditional love. George understood how Christ conquers and destroys the temple through an understanding of the perfectibility of all men and women. He encourages us to "be lifted up in a right understanding of God" The book recollects the wonderful healing work of John Wesley as well as Lady Victoria Murray, Howard Cobb, Dorothy Kerrin, Blanche Cross and eight other healers in the twentieth century.

John Wesley was a pioneer of the National Health System in the U.K. and wrote that "prayer is the highest medicine". John Wesley appealed to the physicians of his time to gain an understanding of the healing power of God
