

Our Mission and Purpose

To support the footsteps of those seeking a greater understanding of God’s protection and care; to provide a home where one may live in accord with the teachings of Christian Science; and to provide help with daily living activities through Christian Science nursing care.

About us

Tallwood House, under the wing of New Hampshire Home for Christian Scientists, a volunteer board of directors, is a nonprofit organization — a 501(c)(3) religious charitable entity.

Tallwood is supported primarily by the residents’ room and board. Auxiliary funding for benevolence for those who need assistance to live here, and for capital projects and other needs, is the evidence of largesse and generosity.

Gifts are always welcome to support this important work of caring for our fellow church and family members.

Thank you!

New Hampshire Home for Christian Scientists

23 Rundlett Street
Concord, New Hampshire 03301
603-848-2904
email: TallwoodCS@gmail.com
web: NHHomeCS.org

Directions

Take Route 93 to the Route 89 North exit just south of Concord.

On Route 89 take Exit 1. Then turn left onto South St. Follow South St. 1.3 miles to Conant Dr. on the left. Turn left onto Conant.

Take the first left onto Rundlett St.

Tallwood House is on the left, up the driveway.

Transportation

Tallwood House is 20 minutes away from the Manchester, NH, airport (MHT). Arrangements may be made ahead for pick-ups at the airport by calling the House.

PHOTOS © 2019 ELODIE REED, EXCEPT THE COOP BY JD CARRUTH

New Hampshire Home for Christian Scientists

Tallwood House is a welcoming home where all work together in support of the Cause of Christian Science, the world, the surrounding community and each other. Residents and workers enjoy an atmosphere of genuine friendship, mutual respect, appreciation, dedication, and opportunity.

The comfortable and homey surroundings invite one to settle in for study, relaxation or conversation. Everyone is included at the cheerful, family-style, wholesome meals.

Activities include shopping trips in town, sightseeing in the White Mountains, talks and concerts by local volunteers, working in the gardens on the property, and of course, Concord church services and activities.

The Colonial house has a beautifully restored living room, dining room, library, and activity room, and a sunny wing of private rooms for eight residents. The house is surrounded by a spacious yard with patio, gardens, lawn, and acres of tall trees.

Each resident has private rooms which they may furnish with their sense of home. Even beloved pets and a backyard coop of laying chickens contribute to life at Tallwood.

Visitors and family are welcome and are often greeted first by one of our “four-legged residents.” There is sometimes room for rest-and-study visitors as well.

Tallwood House is truly home for all who come here!

